

Dipartimento di Scienze e Tecnologie

ACADEMIC YEAR 2017/2018

DEGREE COURSE in Biology
Curriculum: Food resources and Nutrition

TEACHING COURSE in ANIMAL RESOURCES
TEACHER Prof. Marina Paolucci

Program

Fish: generality and classification. Fish biology with particular attention to nutrition and reproduction. The main species used as food resources. Facts about fish farming. Current state and future prospects. Crustaceans: generality and classification. Biology of decapods with particular attention to nutrition and reproduction. The main species used as food resources. Objects of crustacean farming. Generalities on feeding of the species under cultivation.

The production of feed for aquatic species. Animal Resources and Environmental Quality.

The teaching material will be provided during the course.